MRS. STEVENSON'S WILL.

Herr Most on Frick's Assailant.

BERGMAN'S MISTRESS INTERVIEWED.

Sensational Rumors from Homestead.

Special to the APPEAL

Herr Most Interviewed.

New York, July 27.—The Evening World prints a long interview with Most, who is quoted as saying that "the Frick shooting is of little consequence, and what the devil is the use of making so much fuss about it? Bergman is no good and he is my enemy, and I hate him as much as I do Frick, the Czar of America. Bergman betrayed me. I taught him to be a printer, and then he turned round and joined the Autonomists, who hate me worse than the police. The talk about my being mixed up in the Frick affair is all rot. The cause of Anarchy is not advanced by Bergman's bungling job. All Anarchists hate Frick, but I won't say he ought to be killed. Emma Goldman is a harmless crank. I don't know Mellick, the Long Branch baker. He is an Autonomist and likely to be a friend of Bergman's."

Bergman's Mistress Interviewed.

New York, July 27.—Emma Goldman, the female friend of Frick's assailant, for whom she is said to have been looking ever since the shooting, was found tonight on East Fifth St. She is a blonde German of medium stature. In answer to questions she said: "I have known Bergman for a long time, and lived with him for the past two years. He is quiet and studious, and a courageous fellow, who hates capitalists and tyrants. No, I did not know he was going to shoot Frick." She also said she knew nothing about the affair, and did not know where he was going when she parted from him last week.

Threatening Talk.

Homestead, July 27.—The workmen here say that the Carnegie mills will not be run by non-union men. It is claimed here that the 60 men now in the mills were sent in by the union men with instructions to wreck the mills and machinery with dynamite when the time comes, if Carnegie will not agree to terms. A search was made in the workmen today but no explosives found. The talk that the men now in the mills have an understanding with the union men is regarded by the police as sensational.

A Terrible Deed.

Bellaire, O., July 27.—A terrible double tragedy was enacted near Benwood, W. Va., at 10 o'clock last night. Michael Boylon and his sixteen-year-old son John, it is said, insulted the wife of Samuel Winesburg. Winesburg objected and the two men came to blows, whereupon John Boylon drew a revolver and shot Winesburg. Mrs. Winesburg was shot in the breast and died this morning. Both the Boylons were arrested.

Heavy Storms.

Philadelphia, July 27.—Just before noon yesterday a terrific thunder and wind storm struck the city, doing great damage in the northern part of the city. A number of buildings were wrecked or unroofed. The loss is fully $200,000.

Wheeling, W. Va., July 26.—In a heavy storm at Long Run Sunday night a cloudburst swept away the houses of William Doty, and the whole family of nine persons were drowned.

Mrs. Stevenson's Will.

San Francisco, Cal., July 27.—The will of Mrs. Ellen M. Stevenson was filed for probate today. Deceased's aunt, Christine M. Hardy, was appointed executrix.

SILVER RESOLUTIONS

Passed at the Helena Mining Congress.

Whereas, The theory of the Constitution that electors for President shall be men of the highest dignity and integrity, fit to be entrusted with the gravest concerns of the nation, and that they shall, when elected, be free to cast their ballots for such a person for President as will best insure the safety, honor and prosperity of the country, and,

Whereas, It has been the endeavor of the opponents of free bi-metallic coinage to secure the selection of candidates for the Presidency by the National Republican and Democratic parties, who will, if elected, oppose the will of the people by the executive veto whenever Congress shall express it in a free coinage bill, and,

Whereas, To vote for electors pledged in advance to select either one or the other of them for President, without conditions, will be an endorsement in advance of the purpose to defeat the popular will; and,

Whereas, In the silver State there is but one sentiment in all the three national parties in regard to the full recoinage of silver; therefore be it

Resolved, That wisdom and patriotism both require that the people of the silver State and the State conventions of all parties therein shall so shape their action as to secure the balance of power, if that be possible, in the electoral college, to the end that the electors selected by the people of such States may so act independently in the electoral college as to defeat the election of any man as President who will not agree that the will of the people as expressed in any future Act of Congress in relation to silver shall stand with out executive interference or veto. That in order to meet the contingency of a

POSSIBLE ELECTION

Of a President by the present House of Representatives the constituents of all members of the present House be appealed to, to demand of all the members of the present House who are candidates for re-election their promise that they will support no man for President who will not permit the will of the people as expressed in the future Acts of Congress upon the silver question to stand without executive veto.

He Was On.

When the Carson Band played the march for the Chinese funeral on Tuesday, they gave the dead nabob a sound and touching music.

A few months ago when they came back from the cemetery they played "The Girl I Left Behind Me." But this time they played "Nearer My God to Thee."

It was great sport—the other time—when they played the lively air. Everybody along the street saw the point of the fun and laughed heartily.

Now, the Chinese are, above all, an observing people, and they noticed the fun along the street when the band played, and they made note of the lively music. Taking pains to enquire they learned that the music was the air to a frivolous song, and so on Monday when they hired the Band they stipulated good, slow, religious music.

Just before they started, an old highbinder took Loper, the leader, one side, and grabbing him by the arm, pulled out a long six-shooter, remarking:

"Las time you play 'Gal I left behind.' No good; you play once more I heap for know you dam head off. You sabbe me! Now you play some lead nice tune; same Mis. Blender, Mis. Clesler, Mis. Howe, Mis. Clagwin sing for white funeral, long with Jimmy Tolleyson and Halley Cob. You sabbe me! No foolishness." And he waived a gun all around in front of the astonished leader.

"Music slow; belly long time on each note. Music make everybody cly. You sabbe cly!"

The leader thought he understood, and when he saw the old fellow just behind the band in a hack with a big six-shooter in his hand, he ordered the boys to play slow and give everything the proper effect.

Bodie Wiped Out.

Bodie, a camp that has had so many ups and downs, has at last been wiped out by fire. It started in a bakery and destroyed the business houses on both sides of Main street. The loss is about $100,000 and it is not likely the place will ever be rebuilt.

Danny Needham was easily whipped by Dawson.

ALL SORTS.

The Grand Jury meets today.

The passenger was late again yesterday.

A new sidewalk is going down in front of the Ormsby.

Mrs. Dr. Thoma of Reno is visiting friends in this city.

H. M. Yerington returned from the C. & C. last evening.

Look out for earthquake shocks, they are coming this way.

The Elko Independent says Carlin has a Silver League with 132 members.

A large crowd will go up from here to hear Weaver speak at Virginia City.

Nudge Mara has laid a new sidewalk in front of his saloon and made other improvements.

The Enterprise of yesterday publishes a very good picture and sketch of Congressman Bartine.

This is a year of political revolt and the revolt is spreading like wildfire.

Tom Dempsey was around distributing his compliments last night and endeavoring to get the curl out of his mustache.

Mr. Thaxter is still in doubt about his vote. He don't propose to allow politics this year to interfere with his soda water trade.

If the party which took the deer's head from the Capitol garden last night, will return the same no questions will be asked.

Conductor Bray's wife gave her Sunday-school class an outing at the Capitol yesterday and held a delightful picnic at Tredegar's.

S. J. Pezjedo and wife who have been visiting their son the Lieutenant Governor left for their home in White Pine last evening.

The fund for Mrs. Cassidy is rolling up in good shape all over the State but some of the small mining camps have done better than the larger towns.

The Gazette is still stirred up over the future course of the silver electors. The Gazette may be quite certain that they will vote for neither Harrison or Cleveland.

"Protection" and "free trade" are threadbare and meaningless battle cries says the Denver Times. How would "free coinage and better times" do for a campaign motto?

Says the Silver State: "Wanted, by the people, a live, progressive candidate for Congress, who thinks more of free coinage and his State than he does of party or of Harrison or Cleveland."

The thing that is most bothering the county ring this year is the election. They can't buy 150 votes under the Australian ballot system and they can't intimidate 100. There's a loss of 250 that will be hard to make up.

The old parties will be surprised at the strength of the People's movement in this country when the votes in the next election are counted. The farmers of this valley are nearly solid for Weaver and Field.—Phoenix, San Jose, Cal.

The stringing up of a private soldier by the thumbs in Pennsylvania is liable to effect the political situation in that State. Money is being raised all over the country to prosecute Gen. Snowden and Col. Streetor. The punishment is a relic of barbarism and the perpetrators of it should be hanged from the service.

Leslie Bell and George Richard returned to Carson last night. Their team became unmanageable the other side of Hope Valley, while on their way to Wolf Creek, and the two men jumped out just before the outfit rolled fifty feet down a bank. The rig was badly broken, and the team considerably scratched and bruised.

The Times-Review says: "Under the election law the Silver electoral ticket named at the Reno Convention must be nominated by a petition signed by about 500 voters. These petitions will be circulated in a very short time and it is desirable that each one who signs the petition shall be a registered voter."

The Greeley (Colorado) Tribune says the growth of the People's party in Colorado is astonishing all the old politicians and filling the place hunters with blank dismay. They no longer sneer at and ridicule the movers as nearly all the influential citizens are joining it, and it will sweep the State like a cyclone in November.

WHY

THAT IS THE QUESTION,

Can you go to the EMPORIUM and know you will get the worth of your money?

BECAUSE

Abe treats you well; gives you one price, and tells you frankly if your purchase is cotton or wool, and if it will wash and wear.
